MISS ALIDA GHIRARDELLI, DAUGHTER OF DOMINGO GHIRARDELLI, IS DROWNED

Prominent San Francisco Girl Meets Death While Bathing in Surf at Coronado

SAN DIEGO, August 16.—Miss Alida Ghirardelli, daughter of Domingo Ghirardelli, who is a well-known member of the chocolate firm of Ghirardelli & Company, was drowned today.

The young lady was bathing in the Coronado surf when she got into deep water and was carried out to sea.

Several people witnessed her struggles but could not assist her. Her parents reside in San Francisco.

QUARREL OVER BABE ENDS IN MOTHER'S SUICIDE

Young Wife Shoots Herself Following Row Over Who Should Carry Infant

HUSBAND ARRESTED AND CLOSELY QUESTIONED

Bars Spouse From Room and Sends Bullet Into Head When He Unlocks Door

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—"That blessed baby," usually the cause of joy to every household, was responsible, indirectly, for the death of Mrs. Mary Bergstrom, a 16-year-old mother, who is supposed to have killed herself in the rooming house at 328 Fourth street shortly before midnight.

Together with her husband, August George Bergstrom, the woman had attended a theater, and a dispute had arisen as to who should carry home the 3-months-old baby. The husband and father was anxious to hold the child, but the wife refused to hand it over.

The quarrel kept up while a little snapper was perched on a table. When the couple reached home Mrs. Bergstrom locked the door, and refused to admit her spouse.

When he returned after going downstairs, he found his clothes outside, but obtaining a pass key, entered. As he did so, he shot her and Mrs. Bergstrom fell insensible, dying a few moments later. Neighbors had heard her threaten to kill herself, and powder marks near the wound in her head, and a mark which looked like a trigger on one of her fingers, seemed to bear out that theory.

The police, however, arrested Bergstrom, and today the detectives questioned him closely as to all the incidents of the evening.

The child, who was the helpless cause of it all, was taken in charge by friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Holland, who reside in the house.

Ends Life With Babes

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Determined that none but herself should care for her three babies, Mrs. Maria Handzell, possessed of a belief that she was going to die, called the children to her side in the bath room of her home, opened a gas jet, and met death with them.

The tragedy occurred during the early morning hours yesterday, the bodies of the three babies—Lillian and Lottie (twins) of two years, and Joe, four years of age—and his wife being found by Handzell when he arose yesterday.

According to Handzell's statement, his wife had been ill for many weeks, and believed she was dying. On several occasions, she said, she rebelled against permitting strangers to care for her children and declared that they never should be out of her sight.

The father found the bodies of his four loved ones, their arms intertwined, on the bathroom floor. He tried to hide the sight from his four other children to spare them the heartbreaking memory, but did not succeed.

STANLEY MOORE BETTER; TO BE READY FOR TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—"All he at the trial on Wednesday," said Attorney Stanley Moore, as he sat in a chair in his apartment at the St. Francis Hotel, shortly before noon today. He was feeling much better and was being shaved when a representative of THE TRIBUNE called.

"The reports published about my brother's condition," said the sister of the prominent young attorney, "were much exaggerated. He became ill at first last Thursday evening, and was not well during the court proceedings Friday.

Condition Not Alarming
This condition is in no wise alarming, however, and he will be up and around this afternoon. All of the members of Mr. Moore's family are on hand and Dr. Coffey says there is no danger."

Attorney A. A. Moore was not in Pasadena, as was erroneously reported, and was at his office in the Balboa building this morning.

"My son's condition is much improved," he declared. "We are not sure whether he really has appendicitis, but he will soon be up again and attending to his duties at the trial of Mr. Calhoun."

Await Decision

Dr. Walter Coffey had not attended his patient up to noon, but was expected any moment. He could not be found at either his office or home, and it will depend upon his decision as to whether or not young Moore, who is in charge of the selecting of jurors in the Calhoun case, will be on hand at the resumption of the trial on Wednesday.

At 1:30 this afternoon the information was given out at the St. Francis Hotel that Attorney Stanley Moore was feeling a great deal better, and was waiting with impatience for the coming of Dr. Coffey. The patient declared that he felt able to be up and around.

HASKELL ACCUSES JURY OF FRAUD

Governor Declares Foreman Intimidated Jurors and Forced Indictments

MUSKOGEE Okla., Aug. 16.—Attorneys for Governor Charles N. Haskell and the five other defendants, indicted in connection with the alleged Muskogee town lot frauds, today filed motions in the Federal court here to quash the indictments.

Aside from charges against five grand jurors and the allegation of improper conduct on the part of United States Marshal Grant Victor, the allegations deal largely with the grand jury, with special objection to the exclusion of Muskogee county, the home of the defendants, from the territory from which the jury was chosen.

Allege Conspiracy
It is alleged that George W. Strawn, J. H. Dixon, J. C. Burgess, A. G. Dumas and W. T. Bailey, members of the grand jury which indicted the defendants, deliberately sought to go on that jury with a view to returning indictments, and that Strawn, as foreman, conspired to intimidate the other jurors into voting against the defendants.

The motion insists that Foreman Strawn told the jurors that they would possibly be charged with perjury if they failed to indict.

It is alleged that out of eight talesmen, seven were partisan representatives and the eighth a bitter personal enemy of Gov. Haskell.

The motion declares there was no evidence presented to show a conspiracy to defraud.

BEAT AND ROB ACTRESSES IN FIERCE FIGHT

Woman Lands Sugar Bowl on One of Her Assailants, Cutting Head Open

WEALTHY ESCORT IS SEVERELY BEATEN

Officer Leaps From Window in Underclothes and Rushes to Rescue

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 16.—Insulted by abusive language, struck in the face and then robbed, was the experience of two pretty young actresses of the Elite theater here early this morning. The young women are Miss Helen Pa. Mar and Miss Edna Murrill, and the attack occurred while they were in a North Shore restaurant, at 1 o'clock, in company with Frank Nelson, a wealthy man of leisure of San Francisco.

The actresses and their escort were leaving the restaurant when they were accosted by two underdressed men sitting at a table near the door. The men made several uncivil remarks to which the girls took exception.

Nelson is Beaten

Miss Pa. Mar repudiated one of the men severely, at which he struck her in the face, inflicting a slight wound under the right eye. Nelson then interfered to protect the young woman, but the two men attacked him, blacking his eyes, and beating him up generally.

Miss Murrill, to protect Nelson, seized a heavy sugar bowl and hurled it at the head of one of the men, causing a deep cut on the forehead.

At this the two men advanced toward Miss Murrill, and she fled to the street. They pursued and one of them overtook her, and struck her, knocking her to the ground.

Deputy to Rescue

Her cries for help attracted the attention of Emil G. Corat, a deputy constable, who was in a rooming house at Fourth and D streets. Corat secured his pistol and jumped from a window of his room in his night clothes to the roof of the street. Corat then escorted the girls to their apartment at the Marlin hotel.

Meanwhile, Miss Pa. Mar and Nelson remained in the restaurant. As Miss Pa. Mar came out one of the men seized her handbag, scattering the contents on the sidewalk.

Renew Attack

Corat went to the restaurant with Miss Murrill, and found that Miss Pa. Mar was being attacked by the other man and several Greeks. Corat drew his gun, and the men ran out of the restaurant down the street. Corat then escorted the girls to their apartment at the Marlin hotel.

Missing Corinthian Yachts Are Found

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The yachts Frolic and Ruby of the Corinthian Yacht Club's fleet which sailed from Santa Cruz for this port at midnight on Friday have not reached here. The yachts Monsoon and Presto, which sailed at the same time, and reached here early today, parted company with the Frolic and Ruby late yesterday afternoon when the Frolic was eight miles west of Pillar Point and the Ruby about five miles south of the same locality.

Doubt as to the safety of the overdue yachts was dispelled this afternoon when the captain of a coaster reported three yachts off Half Moon Bay, beating in the direction of the Golden Gate against an adverse wind. These doubtless are the Frolic, Ruby and Monsoon, which also is bound from Santa Cruz. The light vessels are expected to arrive tonight.

Allowance Asked by Millionaire's Widow

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Emily C. Yoell, widow of J. Alexander, the millionaire of this city and San Jose, whose estate has been in litigation for years, applied today to Superior Judge Graham for an allowance of $200 for personal expenses, claiming that she is entirely without means. The matter was taken under advisement.

No Trace of Lost $30,000 Necklace

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17.—No trace has been found of the $30,000 pearl necklace lost yesterday by Mrs. Edwin T. Earl, wife of the proprietor of the Evening Express, while en route from this city to Avalon, Catalina island. The police of various western cities have been notified.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE, ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE

FOUR GIRLS SAW THEIR WAY FROM PRISON

Slide Through Hole in Screen Down Rope Made of Bedspring

TWO ESCAPE BUT TWO ARE CAPTURED

Police Begin Search For Young Women Who Left Detention Home

Sawing their way to liberty through heavy screens across the window of their second-story room, four girls escaped from the Alameda County Detention home on Nineteenth street last night and though the police have taken up the search, so far only two have been recaptured. The escape was made by means of a rope torn from a bedspread, and the fact that all four crawled through a fifteen-inch hole apparently too small to admit a child lends a sensational element to the outbreak.

Sliding down the improvised rope shortly after midnight, Ida Crawford, 15 years of age, whose case is being heard before the juvenile court of DuReka, Cal., and Marie Lyons, age 19, who, in company with Lucy King, was arrested during the early morning hours last week in a house of ill repute, made their get away and are still at large. Leota Fox of Berkeley and Lucy King followed in the perilous descent, falling directly into the arms of Night Watchman G. Holland, who, attracted by the noise, reached the scene in the nick of time.

Police Begin Search

The inmates of the home were aroused and saw the escape of the Crawford and Lyons girl, but failed to apprehend them and the matter was turned over to the police. The two captured fugitives were locked up in a room all day yesterday, but have refused to reveal the probable whereabouts of their companions.

The four girls occupied one room on the second floor of the home, and Leota Fox, who admits having planned the affair, asserts that they were actuated to the attempt to escape by the fear of commitment to the Whittier reform school.

Used Scissors

"We took the scissors they gave us for use in sewing and pried up the wires from the bottom bar during the afternoon," she admits, talking her apprehension society.

"We went to bed at the usual time but after the house was quiet and the lights out, we got up, dressed and cut the heavy wires. It was very difficult and once or twice we thought we had been discovered. We persevered, however, and when got a hole, about fifteen inches wide open, Ida, who was the smallest, tied a rope made out of strips of a bed spread, which we tore up, to the bedstead, and creeping out on the sill slid down. She didn't wait for the rest of us, but ran as fast as she could and that is the last we saw of her."

Pulled Out Hair

"The rest of us drew straws, and Marie Lyons won. She was larger than Ida and in crawling out she caught her hair in the rough ends of the wire, jerking out a great handful. It must have hurt her terribly but she made no outcry and in her turn slid down the rope, and disappeared."

"I went next, but reaching the bottom, turned to assist Lucy King. I thought I heard someone coming and called to her to hurry and she scrambled through the opening, tearing her clothes to shreds in the rush and crept down the rope just in time to fall into the arms of Watchman Holland who crept up behind me in the darkness."

"He held us both though we struggled hard to get away, and alarmed the house hold. We realized then it was all off, but I am sorry we failed."

Bread and Water Diet

Though locked up all day on a diet of bread and water, the two captured girls steadily refuse to throw any light on the probable whereabouts of their fellow escapees.

Evolution Officer Reuss says that Leota Fox, who appears to have been the leader throughout, tells him that it was agreed between them before they attempted to escape, that they would tell each other nothing of their destination. In this way they figured that in case one was captured it would be impossible to give information.

Reuss is inclined to believe the girls' story, and asserts that all four are extremely incoherent, being held pending their probable commitment to the State Reformatory.

Actress Wife of Millionaire
Renounces Society for Stage

MRS. AUGUSTA GLOSE, Known in Private Life As Mrs. William Leeds, Whose Rich Husband Cannot Keep Her Off the Stage.

MRS. AUGUSTA GLOSE, Known in Private Life As Mrs. William Leeds, Whose Rich Husband Cannot Keep Her Off the Stage.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Augusta Glose has announced her determination to return to the stage.

With little thrills and gasps, Broadway and its vicinity are discussing the announcement with an appreciative eye on the sensational elements involved. That love, a home, riches and prestige on higher circles, have not satisfied the heart of the actress who left the stage at the conclusion of a successful run in "The Liberty Belle" six years ago to marry S. C. Leeds, one of Kansas City's most successful promoters and brother of William B. Leeds, who, up to his death last year, was known as the "Tin Plate King," is a patent conclusion.

But—just now the question is one of considerable moment among the gossip—will the footlights, the glare of the calcium light satisfy her as of old?

Laughing at those who shake their heads wisely, pleading with a husband in no wise resigned to her return to public life, the actress is preparing for an engagement this fall and will make her second debut in this city. Just what the vehicle is to be is yet unknown, but all probability it will be one of the light operas in which she was so successful before her marriage.

That the return of Mrs. Leeds to a life which it was thought she had abandoned forever, comes in the nature of a distinctly unpleasant shock to her marital relatives there can be no doubt.

Mrs. William B. Leeds, her mentor of mourning, over is just gaining a footing in exclusive society abroad to which her millions have gained her entry, and there has been a decided determination on their part to forget that Mrs. Leeds, Jr., was at one time a spotlight favorite.

The culmination of the interesting serio-comedy promises to be interesting, and a little hint that it may prove disastrous in a hundred ways, lends an added sauce piquant.

GAS EXPLOSION
WRECKS BUILDING

Seven Hurt, Two Fatally, When Storage House is Blown Into Pieces

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—Seven men and the women, two of whom may die, were injured today when an explosion of natural gas wrecked the four-story building occupied by the Wruck Moving and Storage Company.

The roof of the building was lifted high in the air and a falling wall crashed upon an adjoining saloon, causing much damage. Another wall almost demolished a meat shop. Immediately following the explosion, seven buildings in the neighborhood were aflame, and a conflagration threatened the district, but quick work on the part of firemen saved the day.

Frank Wruck, manager of the storage house, was badly burned. The loss is $100,000.

GOOD-BYE, MY DEAR GIRL, SOLDIER WRITES

Tries to Commit Suicide—But Flow of Gas is Too Poor

POLICEMAN AIDS HIM IN SEARCH FOR DEATH

Sends Messages to Relatives Telling of His Desire to Kill Self

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—"Good-bye, dear girl; good-bye." These words on a picture postal card, containing a likeness of himself, represented the farewell message of Henry Weld Hardy, a private in Company M of the Eighth Infantry, to his sweetheart, Miss Lillian C. Austin, of 1329 Boulevard, Toledo, Ohio.

Despondent to a degree which made life no longer possible, and disappointed in love, Hardy, overcoming every obstacle, turned on the gas in his room at 737 McAllister street at 10 o'clock last night and lay down to die.

A poor flow of gas and the discovery of his condition by the landlady of the house was responsible for saving his life after he had sent telegrams and messages to his relatives and friends in different parts of the country telling of his suicide.

The young man, who is not quite thirty, has been in the army eleven months, obtained a pass on Wednesday to leave the Presidio. Saturday he hired a room at 855 Buchanan street, intending to kill himself there, but the proprietor, entering his apartment during his absence, found a telegram addressed to his company commander at the Presidio, telling of his death by the gas route, and on his return he was ordered from the house.

Policemen Aids Him

He tried several other places, but as soon as he had negotiated for a room he discovered that electricity was the only light to be had. Finally a policeman directed him to 737 McAllister street, where he thought he was secure.

When interviewed at the Central emergency Hospital, after he had been resuscitated, Hardy stated that the fates were against him.

"I have been disappointed in affairs of the heart," he declared, but would not admit that Miss Austin was responsible, save to assert that she was one of his dearest friends. He left his home in Arlington, Mass., where his father is a chemist and where he has one sister, about three years ago. He says he is determined to put an end to his existence, and stoically maintained that he would try it again at the earliest opportunity.

Leaves Second Note

A second note addressed to "To whom it may concern" reads as follows:

"I left my things down first in a dress suit case, inquire at 855 Buchanan and the police will tell you all. My name is Henry Weld or Harry Weld Hardy. Good-bye, everybody, H. W. Hardy."

This missive was written on the front and back of an old envelope, and the police referred to is an officer who directed Hardy to the McAllister street house. He was first discovered this morning at 8 a. m., but was conscious even then, and had inhaled but little of the gas.

Eleven Dead of Heat in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—Two men died of heat today and nine additional deaths, which occurred Saturday and Sunday and which had not been made public, became known by the burial permits. The government thermometer registered 89 degrees at 12 o'clock and higher temperatures were predicted.

ROUTINE BUSINESS BEFORE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Trustees of Melrose School District Ask for Special Levy to Raise $1500 Extra for the Maintenance of Schools

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning a resolution was adopted authorizing Supervisor Bridge to repair the bridge on road No. 374, between the Mountain Road and Alvarado, at a cost not to exceed $500.

Supervisor Mullins objected, preferring that the work be done by contract.

Supervisor Bridge said that the work was to be done in his district and by the men in his employ in that road district. It was only typical work and his men could do it as well as any person. If the work should be let out to a contractor, the latter would have to move his tools to the spot, whereas the road employees had on the ground now all the tools that were required. However, as Supervisor Mullins had objected, he would waive his request and let the work be let to a contractor. He declared the sequel would show that the work could have been done cheaper by the regular employees of the district.

Supervisor Kelley moved the adoption of the resolution, and the motion prevailed. Supervisor Mullins voting in the affirmative with Supervisors Bridge, Kelley and Horner. Supervisor Foss voting in the negative.

Joseph Neves at Newark was granted a saloon license.

P. M. Spracher, United States Superintendent of Road Construction of Chandler, Okla., asked for the experience of the board as to the merit of ordinary macadam for road purposes under present traffic conditions. The matter was referred to Chairman Horner.

A communication was received from Secretary T. M. Day of the State Board of Equalization notifying the board that the hearing of counties by the board of assessment would be held in the rooms of the Board of Supervisors in San Francisco, Aug. 17.

Constable Morris H. Lane was granted permission to leave the State for a period of not to exceed sixty days.

Mant More Money

The trustees of the Melrose School district notified the board that they would receive $1000 in addition to the regular money received from State and county sources for the maintenance of their schools during the coming year, and asking for the charging of a special tax for the purpose of raising that amount. Filed.

County Superintendent of Schools Fisk submitted a rate of 30 cents on each one hundred dollars' valuation of property in the county, as necessary for the maintenance of the county schools for the coming year. This is higher than it was last year, although Mr. Fisk showed that the ratio of increase in the school census of the county for the past year

FOUR SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN CAR TURNS TURTLE

Driver Badly Bruised and it is Feared Skull is Fractured

DENIES WOMEN WERE IN HIS MACHINE

Big Machine Jumps Over Embankment When Turn in Road is Reached

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Sternly protesting the information that his party were hitting the high places, and were accompanied by several women when his big touring car jumped over an embankment on the Sloat boulevard, last night, Leo Weisberg, a manufacturer's agent, gave his version of the affair as he lay suffering great pain at the Central hospital this morning. Weisberg was the worst injured of the group of four who occupied the machine. He sustained a lacerated wound over the right eye, contusions and abrasions of the body, a possible fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries.

The others, who were slightly bruised and cut were Benjamin Schriber, of 1135 Ellis street, G. J. Schlarbach, and Herbert Stettin, both of 2300 Devisadero street.

The auto was speeding along at a rapid pace, spreading the dust and breaking the record on the Sloat boulevard, and was making the sharp turn into the street when Weisberg, who was at the wheel, failed to stop off the speed. The curve was too much for the big car, and she turned turtle, jumped over the embankment, and landed on the four passengers underneath. All were taken first to the Park hospital in another machine, and later all were Weisberg, were able to go to their homes.

Big Auto Runs Down Woman at Park Gate

Emma Fisher, a wealthy Philadelphia woman, was run down by a large touring car driven by A. Brennan yesterday afternoon at the Stanyan street entrance of Golden Gate Park. The woman was fatally injured.

Brennan was driving a large touring car, and was driving at a high rate of speed. He was driving on the Sloat boulevard, and was making the sharp turn into the street when he ran down the woman.

The woman was fatally injured, and was taken to the hospital. She is now lying in the hospital, and is expected to die.

Brennan's big car came speeding out of the park, and before anyone could warn Mrs. Fisher, who is slightly deaf, the car had crashed into her and she was hurled to the pavement. Brennan stopped his car as he could, and the injured woman was put into it and hurried to the hospital.

5 KILLED AND 1018 HURT BY CHICAGO AUTOS

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Automobiles have killed fifty-one persons and injured 1018 within the limits of Chicago in the first seven months of the year, according to figures compiled by Sergeant Horace H. Elliott, superintendent of police records. The figures cover accidents of all descriptions in which automobiles figure. July leads, the deaths in that month being sixteen, with 182 injuries. April and May are tied, with nine deaths. The figures do not include north shore accidents which have occurred beyond the Evanston boundary.

Sergeant Elliott points out that the majority of the accidents were due to careless and incompetent chauffeurs and car owners who neglect city ordinances and warnings. The average number of deaths per month so far has been 7.28, and of injuries 154.4. There were 1507 accidents of all causes last year.

Green Driver Mixed up His Brakes and Whole Party Goes Off a Bridge

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 16.—A special to the Oregonian from Chehalis, Wash., says: The 7-year-old son of J. P. Emmett of Adrian, Wash., was crushed to death and his mother sustained a fractured arm by an automobile accident here yesterday.

The car was being driven by Mr. Emmett, who was an inexperienced driver. While approaching a slight grade to cross a small bridge, Mr. Emmett put his foot down on the gas pedal and the car became so confused that the machine was steered off the bridge.

EDISON TRIED, BUT GAVE UP AVIATION

Dismissed Airship as Impractical 40 Years Ago After Many Fruitless Attempts

INVENTOR GLAD HE'S IN FAST AGE

Works on Idea For House Which Can Be Built by Poor in Six Days

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—"We are going too fast—the pace is tremendous. I sometimes think something dire will come of it. We are speeding—speeding. We should have a care lest something breaks and then—well, I dare not prophesy what may happen."

"But, are you not yourself partly responsible for some of our speeding—have you not set the pace or helped us maintain it?" Thomas Alva Edison was asked today.

"The error then is yours, along with the errors of others."

"Perhaps," he assented ruefully. "But I like it. I love it. It is a great age—a marvelous age for Adam—and I am glad I live in it and in this time. It's great—great."

Makes Head Swim

"Eighteen hours to Chicago, a mile under a minute on highways, in horseless wagons, dirigibles, airships, wireless aeroplanes, phew! But we move faster, the cry is, I tell you it makes a fellow's head swim."

"What do you think it will be a hundred years hence?" was asked.

"I don't know, I'm a thinker not a prophet."

"I am not a dreamer," he added. "I am a practical thinker. I never guess at things. I work them out."

"You have dreamed in so many things, why is it that we have not had something from you on aviation?"

"Dismissed it forty odd years ago," he said emphatically. "Haven't touched it since. I came to the conclusion that there was nothing practical in it."

"I was asked by one of your most widely known newspaper proprietors to make certain experiments in making elaborate preparations. I built a model with planes and the best engine of the day—a non-combustion motor."

"The whole machine was finished. I put it in the open air and set the engine going."

"The weight of the thing pulled down the scales until the engine started, then the scales lightened, just as much as the lift of the engine lightened the weight. It was a matter of a few seconds before it was in the air."

"I know—quite novel in that day—but it proved to me the impracticability of flying with the machine that we then had, which was the best of its kind. I made the engine myself, to be sure it was right."

Bent on Better Things

"I will not take up aviation later, perhaps."

"No, I'm bent on better things—things that are closer to the people. I'm going to depopulate the tenements of New York, going to give the people out of them; going to give the man who earns a dollar and a half a chance to live in a home instead of a pigeon."

"In the center of his great library, stood the model of a beautiful home, with yellow plaster walls, a blue and white roof, toward which the inventor's eye traveled as he spoke. It was Edison's latest product."

"See that house?" said Edison. "That's going to pull them out of the tenements by thousands. That house can be built in six days."

"But your houses will destroy socialism, for a man when he becomes a property owner ceases to be a socialist, does he not?"

"Yes, when a man gets money he usually wants to live on it. But if my houses destroy this tendency toward socialism it will make every man a capitalist and a half man—a captain of industry to the extent of that house and the dollar-and-a-half a day, well, it will not do anything worth while."

MURPHY, CUB LEADER, GETS 'DOPE' ON PLAYERS FROM BARBERS AND BOOTBLACKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Clubbey Charles Murphy, the genial president of the Cubs, has his own way of scouting, which he says beats watching the batting and fielding averages to a frazzle. Here's what he says:

"I haven't much use for this professional and artificial way of picking good players. When I drop into a town I strike it, see who the barbers are, get a shave, a massage, or anything else, give me a chance to talk with the barber from whom I pick up the players as to the best player on the local team."

"Then I take for a bootblack stand, have a talk with the fellow who makes the hardware store for a money wrench or a screw driver, buy a new hat at the hat store, and know more about the men in an hour's time than a professional scout can do up in a month of Sundays."

TOOK THREE TRUSTEES AN HOUR TO BATH HIM

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Leo Urbansky, 33 year old, who, according to the police, was the dirtiest prisoner ever housed at the Harrison street station, was given a bath last evening, the first that he has had in three years. He was so weak after the experience that he had to be carried from the cellroom on a stretcher, placed in a patrol wagon and taken to a railroad depot to be taken back to the Chester prison for violation of his parole. It took three trustees at the station more than an hour to wash the dirt from the man's body, legs and arms. Common floor scrub brushes were used by the trustees.

ARMITAGE ORPHANAGE TO BE OPENED SEPT. 7

With the orphanage have not been completed, the Rev. Dr. Chandler, the superintendent, expects that Governor Gillett and his staff and state officials will be present.

Bishop Nichols of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Pope, Judge Murasky and several Episcopal clergymen are among those who will attend.

MISS COOPER CAST AS ANNE OF AUSTRIA

"The Three Musketeers" will open tonight at the First National theater for the week. With an augmented cast and elaborate costumes, the play, full of dash as it is, should be one of unusual interest. Landers Stevens is cast in the leading role, that of D'Artagnan. Maurice Stewart, Roy Clements and Al Hackett will take other leading parts. Miss Cooper will play Anne of Austria. Matinees will be given Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

"Dooley and the Diamond" Hit At Bell; Comedy Runs Rife

The Prentice Troupe at the Bell Theater.

Manager Chas. of the Bell Theater has gathered together a very entertaining bill for this week. The curtain raiser by the Tono family of Japanese artists is a neatly executed and cleverly manipulated series of Oriental magic, hand balancing, juggling and a very daring exhibition of sword walking by the dainty little woman in the troupe.

Laddie Girard and his attractive wife, Jessie Gardner, run away with the honors of the bill in their farcical skit, "Dooley and the Diamond," in which Girard, always a big fun maker, has every opportunity to display his ability as an Irish comedian.

Humor is Contagious

As "Dooley" an Irish policeman, his humor is contagious, while Miss Gardner offers an excellent foil to his wit and eccentricities. Gruet & Gruet provoke gales of laughter with their black face act, "Sam's Substitute." It is a conglomeration of Ethiopian comedy, strongly reminiscent of the two old veterans of "Ham Taro," fame, McIntyre & Heath. Live's singing and eccentric dancing with several duets on cornet and trombone partake of the nature of an old minstrel show.

The Prentice Troupe of five are a whirlwind aggregation in rapid-fire gymnastics. Their repertoire includes nothing particularly new or startling but they get the applause continuously through their act for the speed with which they execute their maneuvers. Plenty of comedy interpolated keeps things merry and throughout the twenty minutes they occupy the stage things hum.

McGuire in Scotch Role

A big, good natured, happy go-lucky Scotchman in kilts and paraphernalia that usually accompanies such costumes is Tom McGuire and the way he sings Harry Lauder's songs is most refreshing. Tom's name doesn't suggest Scotland, neither does he claim to be a native of the land of the heather but the manner in which he rolls off his tongue in his tuneful Scotch selections win him many recalls.

Clockwork Thorne, a bright and winning songstress, is pleasing in a number of popular songs and ballads and the motion picture on the Bellscope comes in for a big share of approval.

WORD 'SALOON' BARRED BY STATE

Can't Advertise Liquor or Leave Car Containing it in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 16.—In almost a frenzy the House members Saturday made a violent assault on the sale of intoxicants of all kinds, passing the Fuller Bill, which questions the most drastic ever offered in the South. By its provisions liquor can be sold only in a place where it is advertised in a newspaper or upon the billboard, no train or other public conveyance carrying liquor, no place that sells any sort of goods may be called a saloon, nor can the word saloon be used.

Officers may raid any place under suspicion and destroy goods found. The presence of an internal revenue license on liquor is evidence of sale. The bill also provides that if a proprietor may be arrested. Sheriffs are called upon to disperse the crowd and to seize the license. Uncle Sam, and must clean out the places on notice.

MAN WHO KILLED WIFE WILL SURVIVE INJURIES

JOPLIN Mo., Aug. 16.—Carl Dietz, who shot his wife in a frenzy of jealousy because he thought she had been with another man in the afternoon and then shot himself, will live though she is dead. A bank clerk when Dietz accused of being the affiant in the case denies absolutely that he was with Mrs. Dietz or even knows her. Dietz claims that they were married in Kansas.

RAINBOW HUES FOR M'VEAGH CURRENCY

Secretary of Treasury Plans Artistic Variety For Coin of Realm

DENOMINATIONS TO BE SEPARATE COLORS

Best Artists in Land Will Help in Preparation of New Kind of "Long-Green"

DUBLIN, N. H., Aug. 16.—With a gigantic scheme for the reformation of the currency, especially the paper currency of the whole world, Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, is busy at his beautiful New England summer home studying the details of his plan.

When he returns to Washington in the fall he intends to make a great effort to have the representative financiers and statesmen of the civilized countries of the globe meet and discuss for the first time a plan for the uniform size, color and denomination of the currency.

Nations Known by Currency

"Money goes everywhere," said Secretary MacVeagh. "A nation is known first by its currency."

"I want America to follow the model of the French and give her best work to her paper money, that the world may know that we have artists that we value art, that we appreciate it and that we value it."

"In my scheme I recommend new designs. To be sure, the designs at present on our bills are, of course, too large and unwieldy for the more graceful small bills."

"This means new designs. For this, the country cannot do better than employ her greatest artists."

Desires Uniformity

"Then, I want the portraits to be uniform; every note of a certain denomination shall have a certain portrait on it, no matter whether the note is national or bank currency."

"Thus, when the portrait of Cleveland, a beautiful innovation of Cortisou, is seen, every one will instantly know that the note is a $10 note, nothing else. This will save constant confusion."

"A certain color should also indicate the denomination of a note. Thus, green

SUDDENLY GOES INSANE AT SUPPER

Woman, Said to Be From This City, Tries to Wreck Restaurant

$1000 FOUND ON HER WHEN SHE IS JAILED

Motors From San Francisco to Gilroy Where She Begins to Rave

GILROY, Aug. 16.—There was excitement in the Gilroy Hotel last night, when a Mrs. Pearce of Oakland, who had motored from San Francisco with $1000 in her pocket, suddenly became a raving maniac while eating supper in the restaurant.

Constable Jack White, assisted by the restaurant waiters and others, overpowered the woman while she was trying to destroy everything within her reach and they locked her up in the town jail.

According to the story telephoned from Gilroy, Mrs. Pearce was a few months ago divorced from her husband at Oakland. Up to three years ago the Peares had lived on a ranch at The Orchards, between Gilroy and Rucker station. It is supposed that the divorce troubles and intense religious enthusiasm resulted in insanity.

Yesterday Mrs. Pearce called at a San Francisco garage and said she wanted an automobile to go to Hanford. She started out, accompanied by a chauffeur. Gilroy was reached a little before 10 o'clock, and it was while stopping for supper, with the intention of immediately continuing on the journey, that the woman became violent. When she was searched at the jail the $1000 with which she had started out was found in her pocket.

The way for a widow not to get too old to marry again is to have a lot of money.

GREAT PROGRAM AT IDORA Musical Event of Season Coming Tomorrow

Idora's music-loving clientele turned out in full force yesterday to enjoy the farewell Sunday concert of the celebrated Innes Orchestra. After the dying strains of tonight's finale, the sixty bandmen and soloists will pack their instruments and depart from Idora. Their four weeks' stay at the home of good music, has been enthusiastically received by the thousands of musicians and followers of music in the bay cities, and it is doubtful if the management of Idora will be able to secure another orchestra band which can display the attention held for Innes organization in the hearts of the music lovers.

Innes' Farewell

Director Innes and his sixty bandmen will entertain the merry throng which invaded the precincts of the park yesterday. Two programs, which would have done credit to a hundred men, will be given. Following is the program which will be rendered by the Innes Orchestra band tonight. The most popular band numbers, selections from the Innes soloists, Virginia Listermann and Dr. H. J. ### Liberati Coming

Starting tomorrow afternoon, Signor Liberati, one of the greatest bandmen in the country, and his wonderful seventy-piece band, Grand Opera Company, will occupy the Idora shell for an engagement of eight days. Liberati brings with him his Grand Opera Company, which contains many male and female singers who have won renown upon the operatic stage. A number of these famous vocalists will be heard at every concert, and one number by the entire company at every concert. Liberati's Grand Opera Company, which carries a number of instrumental soloists of note.

Grand Opera For 10c

Grand Opera for 10c is indeed a novelty. However, it is the offering at the Idora shell during the Idora season, and should afford a musical treat for thousands who could not well afford to pay the high prices during the recent opera season. Such masterpieces as the Sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor" selections from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and many others which will be rendered during the week that Liberati is to be at Idora are certainly inducement enough for the lover of Grand Opera to make his home at "the park beautiful" while the Liberati band and company occupy the shell.

Noted Singers

The following well known vocalists, with the assistance of a large chorus, compose the Grand Opera Company appearing with Liberati's band. At the meeting of the stockholders of the Cosmopolitan Mutual Building and Loan Association at 224 East Twelfth street last night there was much celebration over the fact that not only a prosperous year had been closed, but also that the association celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of its incorporation and had present with it some of the incorporators, who had stock in the first series issued by the corporation.

In Balloon Will Hunt Wild Beasts With a Camera

W. D. BOYCE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—W. D. Boyce of Chicago, who is at the head of the American balloonograph expedition, has just sailed for Europe and will leave there the latter part of this month for Africa.

His idea is to hunt wild animals with a camera in the jungles. Is the purpose of the expedition to accomplish this feat from a balloon which, through trial tests, has made a record of three days in the air. Provisions for five months have been taken, and six cameras will be used by Boyce, permanently transferring the tropical scenes to specially prepared films. The largest of these is an aerial machine holding plates 22 by 65 inches. This will be used almost exclusively in landscape work.

POLICE TO KEEP GIRL IN HOSPITAL

Had Attempted Suicide and Relatives Insisted She Should Die at Home

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Another detail of police is on guard at the bedside of Miss Florence Corbe in Williamsburg Hospital to make sure that she is not captured and returned to her home. It required much fighting by the police to get her to the hospital. For some unexplained reason the young woman swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid and when an ambulance surgeon said that she would probably die her relatives said she should die at home, while the doctor insisted that she should be sent to the hospital.

Relatives and neighbors overruled the two policemen accompanying the doctor and they called the reserves to assist them. "The young woman's friends fought vigorously to keep her in the house and during the battle the street filled with more than 1000 of the curious. After many blows had been struck, the police carried the suffering young woman out of the house and then they had to fight their way through the crowd together into the ambulance and to the hospital.

Starrett and his family, but also to celebrate the formal opening of the association in its temporary quarters in Maple Hall. ## ONE OF COAL BARONS IS INDIFFERENT TO CHARGES

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16.—"It is immaterial to us whether or not there is an investigation of our claims on Alaska coal lands," said C. J. Smith, one of the claimants in the Cunningham group of Alaska, last night, in discussing the report that an investigation into the Alaska coal land entries is to be held here next month. "We have noted in good faith, we object, however, to taking out patents on the new form provided by the government, because restrictions are placed around us that would discourage investment of capital. On some subterfuge or other our patents have been delayed, although our receipts were issued two years ago."

PANAMA PEOPLE ARE HAPPY AND CONTENTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Considering the comparative conditions existing in Panama and Colombia, G. D. Obaldia, son of the President of Panama, who is en route to London, where he is secretary of the Panama legation, said: "Things are going well on the isthmus. We are enjoying prosperity. The comparison between the happiness and contentment of the Panama people, with the condition of the people of Colombia is startling."

RINGLINGS WILL INVADE OAKLAND

New Features Mark Mammoth of Circus World; Many Thrilling Acts

With a monopoly of all the great novelties of the sawdust profession and the biggest show ever organized, Ringling Brothers will come to Oakland Sunday, September 5, for two days' engagement. A great program is promised. Just coming to the city are one hundred numbers, in which are concerned over 350 acrobats; equestrian, acrobats, gymnasts, devils of blood, and other acts of rare, master trainers, who have made the brute creature tap on the door of humanity in fact, the greatest of stunts, and new and sensational features that require diligent search and lavish expenditure such as has never before been known since the first day of circusdom.

Trio of Giants

To start with is the Arthur Saxon trio of earth's strongest men. These giants of muscle perform with dumb bells and support with their feet and legs, a board on which are seated eleven men, while with his hands and arms he lifts a 150-pound weight and holds it in his palms. Then as a beating finish, two members of the trio lie on their backs and elevate a huge structure with their feet. While a ponderous automobile carrying six passengers is driven across.

Alexander Fatty, the famous, while hunched upon his head, walks along an elevated platform and down a steep flight of stairs without a semblance of unbalance. In this same line are the Marcellino-Marini troupe, wonderful men and women head-to-head balancers, who walk about in this posture, playing operatic music on sweet-toned Swiss bells.

Galaxy of Animal Acts

Foremost among the many animal acts are Schumann's educated stallions, imported from Berlin, Germany. Their dumb creatures drink from large glasses while seated at tables, smoke pipes and roll one another through the air. As a fun maker are Kealey's elephants, who undertake long distance talking by telephone with their herds. Spectators are left in wonderment whether the great beasts are not really aware of what they are endeavoring to do.

In spectacular effect, nothing in the circus line has ever been so fully displayed as the Lorch family, imported by Ringling Brothers for this season's tour. The cleverest of juggling, casting and footwork is all done from high pedestals and the effect is amazing. Also featured among this class of performers are the Pacheco, Montrose family, the Prossit trio and the Livingstons.

An Open Letter

Mr. George Mayerle—Dear Sir: The glasses you made for me recently are unquestionably the best I have ever worn. I am the frame sets so snug and even that it is a real pleasure to wear them, which cannot be said of glasses I have tried to wear in days gone by. Respectfully yours, GEO. FRENCH, Col. It is interesting to note how the advance of civilization alters the meaning of geographical terms. A little more than a hundred years ago the Northwest meant the region along the Great Lakes between the Western Reserve and old Fort Dearborn, where the city of Chicago now stands. Fifty years ago the Northwest described the upper Mississippi Valley, the region traversed by the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. Twenty years ago the Northwest moved over to the Pacific Coast and was embraced in the territory drained by the Columbia and the region around Puget Sound. Now the Northwest has moved again. It has followed the westward course of empire and gone farther north. At the Seattle Exposition Governor Hughes of New York applied the term to Alaska. At last the Northwest is touching hands with the Northeast. The Occident and the Orient are meeting by the shores of Bering Strait. Civilization has gone West till it has reached the East. The Northwest has broken into the Arctic Circle and is casting superior eyes on the coast of Asia.

1000 WOMEN MARCH
IN STREET PARADE

Father Gleeson of St. Joseph's
Church Delivers Sermon on Aims of the Order

SAN JOSE, Aug. 16.—The grand council of the Young Men's Institute assembled in Y. M. I. hall at 9 o'clock this morning, the session being occupied chiefly in the appointment of the various committees by the grand president and for work of reorganization. At 11:20 o'clock the council adjourned and the members boarded interurban cars for San Jose, where a barbecue was held. Another session was held this afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. At 6 o'clock the grand officers will enjoy a banquet at Hotel Vandome, at the conclusion of which the attending delegates will be tendered a reception by the local Young Ladies' Institute.

The grand council will remain in session for three days. A varied program of business and social activities has been arranged which will keep the delegates occupied almost every minute of the time they are here.

7000 Are Present

Seven thousand members of the order and their friends arrived yesterday on special trains and took possession of this city. The influx began early Saturday evening when hundreds came to attend the evening ball at the Hotel Vandome.

A monster street parade, in which 6000 men and women participated, marked the opening of the week's session. The parade was held immediately after the arrival of four special trains of twelve cars each from San Francisco and Berkeley. Other trains from Vallejo, Sacramento, Stockton and Oakland had arrived earlier in the morning.

Hear Sermon

The pageant formed at the Southern Pacific depot and marched through the principal streets of the city to St. Joseph's Church, where the Rev. Father Richard A. Gleeson, president of Santa Clara College, delivered a sermon.

Golden Gate Council of San Francisco, Vallejo Council, Sacramento Councils and councils from Oakland and other towns around San Francisco Bay, together with the local members of the Young Men's Institute, participated in the parade.

1000 Women March

The Young Ladies' Institute, an auxiliary organization, also had a large representation. Nearly 1000 women, all dressed in white, were in the line of march.

The big church was crowded when Father Gleeson celebrated mass. In his address he dwelt upon the teachings of the Catholic order.

After defining the word "institute"—a thing set up, whose many parts are dovetailed into each other, forming a grand and symmetrical whole—the preacher showed how this was exemplified in the guilds of the middle ages, in the various communities of the Knights of Malta and the Knights of the Temple.

Further Gleeson alluded to an institute formed 375 years ago at Montmartre, outside of Paris, over the tomb of St. Denis the apostle of France, who had died there when he was fleeing from the persecution of the Emperor Diocletian. He gathered together his little band of six earnest and devoted companions and established the Society of Jesus.

Fearless in Faith

The base on which the institute is built is orthodox, upright belief and good will. Father Gleeson continued. It presupposes love and loyalty to Christ and to His vicar on earth. It demands intelligent Christians who are able and ready to give reason for the faith that is in them, men fearless and full of spirit.

"The material, honest, sturdy, elastic, of which the institute is built, are the hearts of oak and the minds of steel of its members, men of integrity, with a keen love of justice; men, prudent and temperate and strong, who are a joy and glory to the mother that bore them to Christ. The bond which binds them together is honesty and charity; material is charity, brotherly charity."

"May the institute live, may it increase and may it flourish and may the heaven bless you and bring you to share its glory."

Following the sermon the greater majority of the visitors spent the day in sight-seeing. Thousands visited Congress Springs and Alameda Park and took car rides as the guests of the local councils. Hundreds also attended a baseball game between a picked team from the Y. M. I. and the Hibernians. The latter won.

BOY ROBBERS TO TELL TRUE NAMES

To Appear in Juvenile Court
Because of Claim That They Are Under Age

SAN JOSE, Aug. 16.—Joe Willis and Fred Carr, the youths who Friday robbed the Santa Clara Valley Bank of $700 and were captured a few hours later by Sheriff Langford and a posse, will appear before Judge Gosney of the juvenile court next Thursday morning, at which time an examination will be made to determine their respective ages.

Such was the order this morning of Justice of the Peace Thompson of Santa Clara, at the conclusion of what was intended to be their preliminary examination on a charge of robbery.

The youths were conveyed to the courtroom in Santa Clara by Sheriff Langford, and were accompanied by their attorney, Arthur Dorn. Deputy District Attorney Fred Thomas took the stand and swore that the boys told him they were both born in March, 1890, making the age of each over 18 years.

Robbers Take Stand

Carr on the stand testified that he was born March 1, 1892, and Willis that he was born March 7, 1892. The point their counsel endeavored to make was that they were both under 18 years of age and that under the law their case must be referred to the juvenile court. If it cannot be proven before the juvenile court that they are 18 years of age or over, that court instead of the superior court will have the disposition of their case.

Will Tell True Names

The boys, while still refusing to divulge their identity, declared they would give their true names, parentage and places of residence to the judge of the juvenile court, but that they would not give the information for the benefit of the officers and the public. Both show the effects of the confinement and have a placid, confident manner that characterized them for some time after their arrest. They are being held in separate cells in the county jail.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning from the family residence, 1111 Grove street. A requiem high mass will be said for the repose of her soul at St. Francis de Sales Church.

Miss Hanifin was 26 years of age, and had resided in Oakland almost her entire life. She was a prominent member of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, and was popular among her associates. Besides her father, she is survived by J. J. Hanifin Jr., a brother, who is a deputy sheriff.

Second Effort to Burn
Knauer Property Meets
With Success

OIL USED TO START
BLAZE, SAYS DEPUTY

Three Suspects Arrested, But
They Prove Themselves
Innocent

ELMHURST, Aug. 16.—A second attempt to burn the Knauer property in Elmhurst met with success Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock when the two-story building was burned to the ground. The fire was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Mitchell, who has been watching the place since the first attempt was made last Thursday night.

He discovered a blaze at the rear door under the inside stairway leading to the second floor. He aroused the neighborhood and garden hose were brought into play to save the houses adjoining.

The residence of M. Clay on the right of the burning building was badly scorched and was only saved after a hard fight.

The odor of kerosene, according to Deputy Sheriff Mitchell, was very strong when he discovered the fire.

The building and property were mortgaged for $3000 and P. Kinoshita, a Japanese, also holds Mrs. Knauer's note for one year, due in November, for $1500.

Three Arrested

The building was worth about $3000 and was well insured. Constable Allen and Deputy Sheriff Mitchell placed three Japanese under arrest on suspicion, but turned them loose after they had proved their whereabouts for the past twenty-four hours. Two men were soon lurking in the neighborhood Saturday evening by nearby neighbors, but no description of them can be obtained. The insurance companies have placed special agents in the field today who are investigating the case.

Mrs. Knauer is at present in Los Angeles, and has been notified of the loss of her property.

Woman, Reconciled to Husband After Filing Divorce
Suit, Tries Again

Two divorce suits against the same husband are now pending in the superior court in the case of Mrs. Constantine, who has just filed her second complaint against Charles Constantine, the keeper of a restaurant on Eighth street, near Broadway.

In July, 1908, she began her first action, alleging extreme cruelty in that for a period of eight months Constantine lived off his wife's earnings. Called her vile names, stated to other persons that she was a prostitute for her husband because she was "no good" and he married her, and would not work down the street with her, but would go ahead of her and make her follow him.

A month afterwards, through the intervention of mutual friends, Constantine effected a reconciliation with his wife, but she stated to other persons that she was a prostitute for her husband because she was "no good" and he married her, and would not work down the street with her, but would go ahead of her and make her follow him.

In her first suit Mrs. Constantine asked for a moratorium of three years, a financial relief, but this time she wants nothing more than a decree, a reasonable attorney's fee of one year, and the restoration of her maiden name, which was Kuhn.

CORONER LELAND'S
ANNUAL REPORT

Record of Suicides 219 and Great Decrease in Fatalities
by Street Railroads

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Coroner T. E. W. Leland this morning issued his annual report, which shows the large amount of work done by the officials of the morgue during the year. It recites in detail the improvements of the morgue, and the conveniences arranged for the handling of diseased persons and the elimination of a great deal of what has seemed gruesome by replacing the dead wagon with a modern ambulance.

During the year 1908 autopsies have been performed on 572 inquests held. Many verdicts of homicide have been rendered by coroner's juries, not the least of which has been the cause of the pay checks in the case in connection with James Edward Cunningham. A noteworthy fact is remarked by the coroner in the number of deaths from street cars, which have diminished twenty-five per cent over those reported for the previous year.

The number of cases investigated were 1572. Of these there were 276 by misadventure and violence, 219 suicides, 4 homicides, 3 criminal abortions, 3 self-inflicted abortions, 17 undetermined and 1012 natural cause deaths.

That divorced persons are usually happy and having escaped from marriage ties have little reason for suicide, is evident by the fact that only one person out of the 219 who killed themselves during the last year was divorced. The figures follow: Married 103, single 66, widows 4, widowers 10, divorced 1, unknown 15.

Child Brings Olive Branch to Hacketts; Stars Will Be Reunited

MRS. JAMES K. HACKETT, Known On Stage as Mary Manning, and James K. Hackett.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Just now Broadway is whispering that Mary Manning, (Mrs. James K. Hackett) who after more than a year of separation following the divorcing of papers on Mr. Hackett in a divorce action, has just withdrawn her suit.

Although the reason for Mrs. Hackett's withdrawal of the suit has not been officially stated, it is rumored that little Elsie Hackett, who is five, and dainty and as pretty as you'd expect a daughter of such parents to be, was responsible for the abandonment of the unpleasant legal action.

Last fall, as the luck of theatricals had it, the Hacketts played in Forty-second street, New York, theatres across the street from each other, James K. at the house which bears his name, and Miss Manning at the Lyric.

During the Forty-second street engagement the child made nightly pilgrimages across the street from one house to the other. One period between acts she spent with her father, the next with her mother.

Soon she became the bearer of kindly messages: "Tell papa this" and "Tell mama that." The theatrical world smiled sympathetically and predicted, if that keeps up long there'll be no Hackett-Manning divorce. Indeed, before the two companies went separate ways there were rumors that a reconciliation was in view.

Now comes the tidings that peace is an accomplished fact and that the principals are planning on a second honeymoon on their estate near the Hudson late this fall when their respective engagements permit.

INVADING ARMY
STOPPED BY MILITIA

Cavalry Charge in Mimic War
Checked in the Attempted
Capture of Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—The first clash between the red army of invasion that is attempting to capture this city, and the blue army of defense, the latter composed principally of Massachusetts militiamen, occurred early today near Wareham, near the bay of Cape Cod, when Brig. Gen. Wm. A. Pew, commanding the blue army at Bridgewater, sent his second brigade across the column and broke through Halifax to East Middleboro, with the extreme left resting at Wareham.

The front of the second brigade had hardly reached Wareham when a detachment of the Red army cavalry appeared and a sharp encounter took place. The second brigade of the Blue army resisted the attack of the cavalry, however, and it was evident that General Pew was not going to throw his strength on his extreme left and allow a breach at Lakeville.

The First and Second Connecticut and the Twenty-second and Seventh New York Infantry started early on the march today. These regiments are in the main body of Brigadier General Tasker Bliss' army of invasion and their commander wished to strike the Blue army at Middleboro.

TO FIRE
MILL

Explosive Fails to Break Bot-

SECOND ATTEMPT MADE TO DESTROY STRUCTURE

Head of Open Shop Firm Declares Union Men Are Responsible For Crime

An attempt to destroy the plant of the Pacific Coast Lumber and Mill Company at Second and Grove streets, by means of a bomb placed under the building, was made early yesterday morning.

Shortly before 7 o'clock a muffled explosion under the building caused Watchman C. T. Hynes to make an investigation which resulted in the discovery that a bomb tied in a wicker lunch basket had exploded. Owing to the fact that the force of the explosion had failed to break a bottle of benzine and another of kerosene which had been placed in the basket, the flames were confined to a small space and were extinguished with little difficulty by Wagon Hynes, William Roswell and Hans Durkin. The police were immediately notified, and Captain of Detectives Peterson with two men went over the ground.

Bottles Unbroken

They discovered that a bottle of acid which causes fire when thrown on any inflammable object within two minutes, had been exploded and been blown over a pile of shavings. The bottles of kerosene and benzine, however, though hurled and broken, had failed to break. The acid had just ignited the shavings when the noise of the explosion brought Hynes in time to extinguish the flames. Had he been a few minutes later, the entire plant, which occupies a block in extent, might have burned, entailing a loss of many thousands of dollars.

President Alpheus Kendall states that six weeks ago a similar attempt was made to destroy the plant, and says that he is sure the attempt was made by the same men responsible for yesterday's act. According to him, members of the San Francisco Building Trades Council have been lighting him and his concern since April, 1908, and that on April 21, a man named Crawford induced employees of the mill to strike because of a grudge held against him, he having been refused employment after his activity in the strike of 1904, with which he was prominently identified.

Open Shop Mill

The San Francisco unions have worked against him ever since his mill has been an open shop, states Kendall. Despite the objections of the unions, he has been doing much mill work for San Francisco contractors. During September of last year the finishing work on a row of flats being constructed by Charles Nelson at Eighteenth and Howard streets by the same men, was awarded to the Oakland concern. This caused a strike, and it was some time before an agreement was reached and the work completed.

At this time Kendall, he put his concern in bad odor with on men.

Looks For Sensation

"I am positive that the investigation now being made by the police will result in sensational exposures," said Kendall this morning. "Just prior to the first attempt to burn the plant I had succeeded in beating some union men in a controversy over some work being done by me in San Francisco."

"In my mind there is not the slightest doubt but that Lock attorney is the man who perpetrated by some union men. They have long opposed me and I know they regard me in the bitterest light possible."

"The fire was discovered at 7 o'clock. It would have been a easy matter for the man or men who did the actual work to have taken the 6 o'clock train from San Francisco, thrown the lunch basket under the building on to the first street car, and taken the train back to San Francisco, and no one be the wiser. The fuse did not explode the bomb for perhaps ten minutes, allowing him ample time in which to get off the grounds."

Strangest Accident on Record Injured Several Men in a Quarry

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 16.—As the result of a most peculiar accident, Jacob Lavolus lies severely injured at the Greenwich general hospital and two other laborers are confined to their beds at home.

The accident occurred in the quarry of Joseph Christiano. The men were drilling rock when the steel drill broke and a large flying fragment struck a glass bottle of gunpowder lying on a nearby rock. At the same instant the steel broke the bottle, it struck a spark from the rock and this ignited the powder. All of the men were seriously burned. Experts say that the accident could not have occurred on a million times.

ENDORSE SUPERVISOR'S PLAN TO TUNNEL ESTUARY

Chamber of Commerce in Formal Manner Backs Scheme to Connect Oakland and Alameda With Subway.

The Chamber of Commerce of this city publicly and in a formal manner, before the Board of Supervisors this morning, endorsed the scheme for the building of a subway beneath the harbor of Oakland connecting the cities of Oakland and Alameda, and the removal of the bridge now spanning the stream which is a hindrance to the commerce of the harbor and, thus, a detriment to both communities.

The building of the subway is the project to which Supervisor Kelley is now directing his energies as a business man, a county official and a citizen of Alameda County.

The endorsement was formally presented to the Board by Secretary Stearns of the Chamber of Commerce in a set of resolutions in several copies, which were adopted by that body in short time and which are as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Alameda County, Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, held August 10, 1909, the following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Whenever the handling of commerce meets with the least resistance in transferring to and from rail and water, and

Whereas, Oakland is fortunately so situated as to the continental side of the bay of San Francisco that rail and water are united and hence is a natural port of entry, and

Whereas, Draw bridges are a deterrent element to shipping, the cause of much delay and also a menace to navigation; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, realizing the rapid growth of shipping in this harbor and the necessity of modern means of handling same, heartily approves of the building of a subway between Oakland and Alameda at a sufficient depth not to interfere with the largest draft vessels in the future may desire to dock in Oakland harbor.

(Signed) I. H. CLAY, President.

(Signed) EDWIN STEARNS, Secretary.

The matter was ordered engrossed upon the record of the Board of Supervisors.

IN AUTO CHASES FATHER FLEES: GIRL AND HER ESCORT

Jealous Youth Lands in Jail After Lively Struggle Over Maid.

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 16.—An exciting automobile chase, interrupted by a fight between a strenuous lover and the girl's escort, in which a revolver was used, ended with the arrest of the lover and his friend, who created a mild sensation in this city.

Charles Luscher, formerly proprietor of the Del Monte Hotel and now a business man here, started for San Jose Saturday evening with a young woman, Miss Bertha Hoffman, and Miss Viola Hoffman, his sisters. He was taking the girls to San Jose where they might do some shopping.

It happened that Albert Van Hofen, a young grocer of this city, was enamored of Miss Viola Hoffman and became very much aroused when he learned that she had gone with Luscher. He rushed to a garage, secured a car, armed himself with a revolver and a knife and started in pursuit, accompanied by Nelson Padlock.

Down the road to San Jose Van Hofen rushed at top speed and overtook Luscher and the girls at Millkens Corners, near Mountain View. Van Hofen jumped from his car and demanded that Miss Viola Hoffman accompany him back to this city.

ARCHBISHOP ON DIVORCE EVILS

St. Louis Primate Says It's the Greatest Menace to the Country's Welfare

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 16.—Taking as his topic the spread of the divorce evil to the United States which he pronounced to be the greatest cause that menaces the nation, Archbishop Glendon of St. Louis delivered a powerful sermon yesterday in the Catholic Cathedral of St. Mary Magdalene. Among those who listened in the eloquent prelate was Cardinal Gibbons.

Among other things, the preacher said: "We are going through a crisis. We have accomplished commercial success. We are a world power. But what about it if we are strong and powerful abroad, if we are weak and disintegrated at home? How long will it stand this Republic of ours, if the home begins to fall? When the home falls the Republic falls, and when the Republic falls the support of liberty and progress falls."

"Our homes are overshadowed by divorce. A Damoclean sword hangs over our heads. With every divorce at least one home is broken and one home is ruined. Those who have been victims in this sad process are exiles from home, from love, and from the children they have."

"If we would maintain the standard of Christianity, we must maintain its sweetest blossom, the Christian home. We must check this invasion of the home, whether it is caused by the desire for 'liberty' or by a sanctimony that is not to be torn down by the designs of man."

CUSTOMERS LOSE IN SALOON HOLD UP

Bold Bandit Lines up Frequenters After Securing Money in Till

For a second time within six months the Antlers saloon, 424 San Pablo avenue, owned by Peter Lassalle, was held up and robbed by a lone highwayman last night shortly after 11 o'clock. The robber secured $82.80 from the till and from five customers who were in the place at the time.

The robber was cool and deliberate. On entering the place he used the conventional command of "hands up," lining five customers present against the wall and compelling the proprietor to step from behind the bar. He then went behind the bar and took $82.80 from the cash register.

The robber was cool and deliberate. On entering the place he used the conventional command of "hands up," lining five customers present against the wall and compelling the proprietor to step from behind the bar. He then went behind the bar and took $82.80 from the cash register.

Searches Frequenters

After searching himself that there was no money concealed behind the bar, the highwayman searched the pockets of the individual customers. He compelled them to the point of his revolver to turn their pockets inside out. In this manner money and jewelry to the value of about $40 was secured. Keeping his victims cowed, the robber then backed toward the entrance and disappeared. Among those held up were John C. Campbell, 690 Twenty-ninth street; Joe Lassalle, 1509 Brush street; Ernest W. Brown, 1620 Fifty-sixth street; William Dorsey, 601 Twentieth street; and F. Britton, 886 Lydia street.

May Be Same Robbers

The robber is described as about 35 years old, slight in build, and dark complexion. He wore a black mask which, together with a black slouch hat, effectively concealed his features. In seeing his commands the robber obeyed quickly and emphatically. In going behind the bar he turned his back to the proprietor and the five victims, but as none was taking advantage of the opportunity to get out from behind the bar, the robber thrust his pistol into the stomach of Lassalle, threatening to kill him if he did not move quickly. The command was obeyed with alacrity.

In the former robbery the job was done by a lone individual. The police believe the same bandit did both jobs.

WASHINGTON REGISTERS DISTANT EARTHQUAKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—An earthquake of moderate intensity was registered early today by the seismograph at the weather bureau, beginning at 2:05 a. m. It continued nearly an hour. It was estimated that the origin of the disturbance was in California or on the Pacific Coast of Mexico.

BERKELEY, Aug. 16.—The university seismograph failed to make any record of the earthquake reported from Washington at 2:05 a. m. according to the Washington report. A disturbance was about 1300 miles away and was supposed to be somewhere in Mexico or the Mexican Coast. The absence of any record of the shock here is due to the fact that the location of the "quake" was in the east instead of southwest of Washington.

Superior Judge Watts this morning granted a final decree of divorce to Ida Pollard from Sidney R. Pollard, the soon-to-be divorced husband, on the ground of desertion. The wife is awarded the permanent custody of the two minor children, and Pollard is required to pay her $10 a month for their care and support.

The Pollards were married in Oakland in July, 1902, and Mrs. Pollard charged that her husband deserted and abandoned her. She went to live with an aunt until she recovered from her shock. A month or two afterwards, she testified, Pollard told her that he had decided not to live with her any longer.

She simply said he did not care about married life any more, "Mr. Pollard told me," she testified, "that he was a strong, healthy man. He said I was always getting sick and that he needed a strong, healthy wife. We always got along very nicely together right up to the day I went to my aunt's home."

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Noah, Ky.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from the change of life, nervous prostration, and hemorrhages. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, so that I can do all my housework, and attend to the store and post-office, and feel much younger than I really am."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough.—Mrs. LIZZIE HOLLAND, Noh, Ky.

The Change of Life is the most mysterious period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.
